

Female Mission Today A Clarion Call

Female Mission Today

In the wake of the events in our country, I am taking a day off from writing and editing my next book. I could not contain myself.

I had three clients this morning that really touched me, all female. One facing eye surgery, One experiencing great difficulty in breathing, and one dealing with heart failure. Three women; Vision, Breath, Heart. Working with them caused me to see the actions of women in our country more sharply.

For anyone who does not know the original purpose of earth and male/female missions, the events in our world will appear extremely chaotic and hopeless. I know the mission of the two bodysuits within the context of the greater Earth mission. Therefore, I am looking through the unique lens of a mystic. Today I stand amazed! Amazed, hopeful and wondering, "Will women pull "it" off?"

In order for you to understand "it", you will need a glimpse through my eyes. Let me share the history* of our Divine family's journey from Our Home of One, of Good. It is the journey that has led you to be incarnated on Earth.

Bear with me.

In the Galactic worlds, beyond our Home of One/Good and before Earth was even a thought, Divine Conscious Beings came together into collectives. They gathered around agendas that would allow them to experience aspects of their Nature; Joy, Peace, Balance, Curiosity, Creativity, etc.

There were other collectives, originating in different areas of the Galaxy, who came together around different agendas. They choose intentions that would allow them to dominate, control and use. Eventually, in worlds before Earth, they invaded the space of our Divine families through deception and then wars. We became owned, enslaved to these Outsiders. The impact of domination, control, and usury, then as today, causes vibrations of energy fields to decrease in frequency. Their presence is like a cancer within the Divine collectives, a major contamination. After their invasion, our energy fields changed from high vibrations of All Good to the heavy, constricting, destructive frequencies of the Outsider energy. We were falling, diminishing, struggling to survive. The heaviness of our collective energy was precluding full access to the Breath of Life, of all Good. We forgot we were the creators of this life, of this world and began to think we needed to work to become Good.

Our collective families tried many things to get out from under the Outsiders. Eventually, it became evident that we were on the brink of death. Extreme measures were necessary. A new plan was imagined and then designed. A way to ferret out their energy was critical as well as systems that would allow quick action by even one Soul. A new space was conceived where energy "seeds" manifested and where independent choice, not group consensus, was not the law. And so the foundation for Earth; the Law of Manifestation and Independent Choice. What was most critical, however, was that we create a way for some in our collective Soul families to have authority over the Invaders. How? And then the answer came. A physical body suit would be needed on this new planet, why not two. One could carry the "ownership marks" of the parasites for both Souls. This would leave one free and connected to the power and authority to command. And so, male/female mission. Male to carry the ownership "marks" and the Female to discern, name and command the Outsiders back to their Homes.

When you look around our country today, you can clearly see that those with agendas of domination, control, usury are not "gone". They are alive and well in our midst. Their impact continues to cause destruction, death, and the heaviness of despair. How did it go wrong?

Simply put, the fact that the female body suit was free of ownership, able to identify and to command, was discovered by the Outsiders. From that point on, females were targeted for harm. They were discounted, diminished until they knew that survival was key. The Souls in female body suits began playing small, obedient, nice, subservient and forgot their true Mission.

And so what sparked my decision to write to you rather than to spend the day working on my book? The time I spend in the healing sessions with my three clients.

Go on that journey with me.

The Past Sets the Present, and The Present Can Free the Past

Those who have experience with energy healing, spiritual transformation know that when someone in our lineage has experienced trauma, they have made decisions that created energy knots or "seeds". Patterns emerge and those vibrations have rippled down the time-line to impact their descendant's life.

Such was the case with my clients. So, I share a version of their sessions. You can make it your session and ask for the same transformations that they were given.

I began with a Reality Statement and Shift for my clients to claim their "new".

"I am living a long, vibrant life with clear vision, strong spiritual guidance, heart strength and deep breathing from the Divine."

Going into meditation, I asked to be taken back in time and shown the "seed" experience of what had manifested. I am taken to a scene filled with fear. A five-year-old girl, dirty, scared, hiding within a formation of rocks. She is burrowing into a corner. Her nose is pressed into the soft dirt and her breathing has almost stopped. As I talk with her she speaks of the fight her parents put up against invading men. She quietly sobs and says, "They were killed and I ran". Her entire village is decimated and the men are looking for her. She does not want to see the horror and would rather stop breathing than to be found by these men. Her heart is breaking.

Giving this aspect of my client the space to be heard, I listen and watch her breathe diminish. If possible, she would become the dust. I assure her that I will keep her safe and have her sense Spiritual healers surround her. I ask them to come in close, and freeze frame the experience.

Then I ask to be taken back to a time before the invaders. Within the village, the children are running, laughing, playing and the sense of safety permeates everyone. The adults are working together, smiling at the children. Love is palpable. The 5 year-old smiles at me and then runs in circles. This is where we will make changes.

I call the young girl to me and ask her to take me to find her mother and father. I explain to the adults that I am coming from the future. The women of this village will need a power that had been taken from them. They cannot perceive of needing more but listen respectfully. I ask the mother to call a gathering of the women during which the men and children are free to watch.

The village gathers, women in the center with men respectfully listening and children safely playing nearby.

Imagine that you are there with me, other women from the future. Gathered with us is a vast number of Spiritual women holding space and knowledge. Beyond them are legions of Spiritual Beings committed to the Good.

I speak to the group, "Greetings my sisters! I come from the future, from your descendant's times to restore a Divine gift that was taken from you. This is a gift that you will need in order to maintain your amazing culture, your families, and even your life. As you look around you may not see how what I am saying is of value to you. I ask you to trust me and these sisters who have gathered around you.

"We are here to tell you that there are forces on this planet who would capture, use and even destroy you and those you love. We have seen it and want to prevent that for you. Are you willing to listen and consider?"

As the sounds of "yes" floats through the group, I continue.

"We recognize that your intentions have been to live peacefully and respectfully within your families and your village. We see the results and the joy that has emerged. Those of whom we speak have different agendas. It is to dominate and use. Their nature is parasitic and that nature can do nothing but destroy.

"We are here to restore the mission of those in female bodies. That includes the sensitivity to feel their approach and the authority to demand their removal. Close your eyes, go inward and you will see legions of Spiritual Beings who are ready to answer your requests. These legions, called PTO teams, have the ability to identify the Outsider's energy, surround, contain it, and then to neutralize and remove it back to its Home of Origin. There are Legions of Power in the unseen to assist in this mission. You see that you are not alone as you stand in a position of power."

Breathe and sense this story.

"Now, go about your day as we stay close. As soon as any woman feels an "off" energy, call all women together and we will walk you through the process."

"The men's role?", someone asks.

"Perfect question. They are to go about their normal work, sending Universal Home energy to the women while surrounding them with their Love. They are not to get involved at this point."

Now, imagine the day unfolding. All is well until one woman calls to the others and they gather at a sacred circle within the village.

"I sense something very different." And others calm themselves, close their eyes and one by one they respond with, "Yes, I do too."

Then myself, the women from the future and our Spiritual Sisters come into the circle. "We will hold this space. You are correct in sensing. Now, use the words, "This energy is NOT Acceptable in our space or in our world!" Close your eyes, and see the PTO legions with your imagination. They move to encircle your village and spread out until they find from where the "off" energy is coming.

"Now, watch as the PTO surrounds the entire group, contains them, neutralizes and then removes them by extracting them from the planet. They are returned to their own Home and sealed there."

Quietly hold hands. Sense the "off" energy lift. When it is gone, ask the PTO teams to open your inner vision to see what you had sensed.

In the Sacred stillness, the women see the invaders very far away, marching toward their region. Far off and yet their energies had wafted into their space.

We affirm to them, "You were correct! Remember, use this gift and teach your daughters and sons."

With authority returned and acted upon by the women, the 5-year-old continues to grow within a culture of Love and Valuing, Imagine yourself with her. You are in the village. Hear the children's laughter. The smiles of the adults are life magic dust permeating everything. Let your emotions build as the sense of safety, peace, joy fills you.

The transformation creates a new energy stream. It enlivens you and it enlivened my clients in their present life. It is as if the trauma, murders, and decision to stop breathing never happened.

The past has informed the present and the present has transformed the past.

"It", Female Mission and "Why"

So, consider "it" in relation to male/female missions. "It" related to Outsider societies and their agendas. Their presence drives Earth mission. Souls from our Divine Families who choose to incarnate into male body-suits do so knowing that Outsiders own that body suit. Therefore, for generations that Soul had to act as a slave to those masters. Male mission in behalf of the Greater Divine Family was to stay connected to the unlimited energy of the Sun and Home through the Crown Center Chakra. And, that despite the manipulations from the Outsiders, flow inspiring, encouraging possibilities through the Crown to the female. His foundation for choice was intended to be the Heart Center. His strength was to come from the Heart and actions were to be totally Heart-centered. His commitments were to be to those who did life based on his Heart-centered values. He was to nurture and inspire.

Originally, the Soul from our Divine families who chose to incarnate into a female body suit was hidden from the view and monitoring of the Outsider Masters. So, women's mission began before birth by having her bonds of ownership taken from her and carried by another. She had to bow down to no one. Then she could stand in clarity, power, and authority. Additionally, the discernment center at the Solar Plexus held sensitivity that would alarm at any hint of Outsider presence, small or great. Her Belly Wisdom or Intuition. This sensitivity would warn a woman when something entering her space or the space of the family was "off". She did not need to "wait in doubt. It was not intended that she fight or battle. It was not intended that she "give the "off" energy space to change, it was not intended that she neglect the warning to give the "off" energy a chance to manifest into greater forms. It was intended that her voice be the only authority in such situations. She would move into conscious physical action to command the identification, the containment, neutralization, and removal of the Outsider's energy at any level or dimension within our energy field. The Outsiders had no power or authority to remain in her space or in the space over which she had guardianship. That plan was enacted on the planet about 600,000 years ago and that changed when her freedom was discovered and for generations, women have been made subservient and less than, which has left us in our current state.

What Mission Looks Like Today

So, here we are in 2017 and Women are Rising! They are doing so mostly from deep wisdom and intuition rather than a conscious memory of mission.

In November and December of 2016, after the U.S. elections, a call went out. "This newly "elected" president has spoken and acted in ways detrimental to the values women hold." The women would not have identified him within the context of Galactic history and yet certainly his words and actions are marks of the Outsider's agenda to dominate, to control, to use, to deceive, to cause descent, and to create conflicts. Other indications of Outsider energy is the total lack of empathy for the masses, lack of commitment for what will benefit the entire Web of Life.

Women's mission? To call out and name, "Something is "off". constraining, dangerous to the whole. To gather and stand firm in the values that build. Do you see what I was connecting after my morning healing sessions? The Female Mission is To Demand the removal of all domination and usury energy back to its Home of Origin. The women do not have to be heard by those in physical. They do not have to be given permission to speak. They do not have to 'be good", to play small. They are to decree! Their stand and their declarations are answered by vast teams of our family, mentors, guides, angels, whatever name you might give them, Spiritual Beings of great integrity to the Good. Those in the unseen regions are charged to follow through on a woman's decree. "It", the power of Female mission as the physical component of the powerful Spiritual plan to remove energies of domination, control, and usury is the aspect of which most are unaware.

Standing up to identify actions and ideas that are NOT Acceptable in a culture that builds Good for All is the major aspect of the female mission. They may sense the "off"ness, see the actions or behaviors of Domination/Usury agendas, they may read of them or see them in videos, news reports or from others. At the very first word, action, or energy sense, a woman was to immediately name it. For example, "That is abusive, or discounting, or dominating, and I will not allow it here." When you know the mission to identify and say "NO", and then you see women standing up to declare cultures, situations, policies based on Outsider's agenda, you can count them as Women Activating Mission

The hue and cry for equal right for women do not speak to the true problem. The actual problem is that women have been kept out of their true mission to Discern the Agendas of Outsiders and Demand their Removal from our Planet. Their declaration brings in the Legions of Spiritual Forces of Good from the Unseen.

Water Protectors! Young Indigenous women who stood together to say, "We will not accept destruction of our water.

Women's March! is a component. The most visible current action representing Female Mission was the world wide Women March Movement in January 2017. This groundswell within women as response to the U.S. elections was exactly what was intended for restoring True Sovereignty and Good. What was missing was the call for our Unseen Spiritual teams.

Take Back Your Time! a mission action. Women have been tracked, tortured, raped, and diminished, over generations. Their survival mechanisms have versions of "be small", "stay silent", "don't breath", "be good", "don't rock the boat". In order to be about their assignment, women have to "take back their right to exist, to stand tall, to speak clearly, to breath deeply, to govern their lives and to be given respect and honor. Any agenda to diminish the Female is Outsider generated.

Abusive Partnerships. An individual woman dealing with an abusive partner is another component of the mission. Their mission is being acted out in very personal ways. These women have stepped into age-old patterns created by Outsiders, usually in male body suits, whose attitude is ownership, entitlement, and domination of women in their lives. As these women stand up with courage and anxiety, they are adding their voice of NOT Acceptable! for themselves, their daughters and for all women.

Take a Knee! and any place that someone "takes a knee" to say, "What we are doing is destructive," is a place for women to stand in solidarity and call to our Unseen Teams. NOT Acceptable opens the door for such situations to be identified in order to remove all Outsider energies of Control and Usury.

Women Coming Together to discuss possibilities, to create Good in ways that honor diverse views and experiences. Women were intended to design systems, establish cultures, write policies that are based on valuing the relationship between all in the Web of Life.

Women Taking their Voice into the political, business and religious arenas.

Any Women can Declare: The Female mission does not require that there be a group of women who gather. The process of the PTO teams to identify, contain, neutralize and remove all Outsider energy is begun when ONE woman senses something is "off". She can wrap her energy fields with the Protective cocoon of Sovereignty and Female Mission, go within, intuitively reach out to the Unseen PTO teams and give them permission to investigate and act. It only requires her discernment and declaration, "Something is NOT Acceptable within my field. They are not allowed into my space. Please step in."

Authority will be Heard by the Unseen: The Female mission does not require that there be a group of women who gather. The process of the PTO teams to identify, contain, neutralize and remove all Outsider energy is begun when ONE woman senses something is "off". She can wrap her energy fields with the Protective cocoon of Sovereignty and Female Mission, go within, intuitively reach out to the Unseen PTO teams and give them permission to investigate and act. It only requires her discernment and declaration, "Something is NOT Acceptable within my field. They are not allowed into my space. PTO teams, please step in."

In this moment in time, women will effect removal or they will not. We will be freed or we will continue the death fall.

Just as has happened over and over in past generations, control, domination, usury is expanding. The Outsider's presence is more and more visible, as we knew it would be with The Law of Manifestation. The world is faced with the destruction of the Life Experiences that we had intended. The Call into Divine, Soul Mission often comes in the form of a crisis, danger, disease or breakdown. Recognize that what is happening is actually a call to Greatness.

Women's time is Now and Our Knowledge about Original Mission is Critical. This is the consciousness shift needed to shift our World.

Will Women Pull IT Off?
